Logan Elm School To Request 6.5-Mill Levy in November

Logan Elm School District voters will be asked to approve a 6.5 mill levy for current operating funds in the November 3 off-year general election.

The Logan Elm Board of Education made the announcement today after passing the resolution Friday night in a special board meeting.

The 6.5 mill levy will consist of three items. The first additional 25 mill levy will be for one year. The second additional 2 mills will be for five years as will the renewal 2 mill operating levy.

In all, the 6.5 mills will mean an additional $118,189 into the coffers of the LE school district for 1960. The following four years, the mill levy will provide $72,732 in current operating funds for the district.

THE 2.5 MILL LEVY is for the purpose of providing equipment for the new Logan Elm High School and the Washington Twp. multi-purpose addition.

It will mean approximately $45,457 with which to purchase equipment. School officials emphasize that this levy is for one year only.

The renewal of 2 mills and the additional 2 mills amounting to approximately $72,732 per year are needed to finance the increase in operating expenses.

It will also partly make up for the loss of more than $8,000 in state foundation funds due to the new foundation program enacted by the recent 103rd General Assembly.

The passage of these levies also will provide funds for some renovation and building repairs needed in the district elementary buildings.

School officials stated today that the new high school equipment will make it possible to offer boys and girls a broad program of instruction.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL curriculum will include four programs of study which are commercial, college preparatory, vocational and general.

They said, "This opportunity of a wide selection of courses and subjects will reduce the number of boys and girls that drop out of high school."

"These funds further will enable the board of education to assign teachers to their major fields of preparation."

"The Logan Elm High School will meet all requirements for membership in the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools."

"One of the many benefits derived from this membership is the acceptance of these high school graduates by college and university admissions offices without special examinations."

"The high school curriculum will offer 38 units of subjects above and beyond the state requirements for a first rate high school," school officials concluded.

THE LOGAN ELM High School plans to open next fall for the first time, if the nation's steel strike doesn't last too long and prevent its builders from completing the job.

Approximate valuation of the Logan Elm district is $18,183,000. If passed, the levy will be an increase of $4.50 per $1,000 of real estate valuation over the present rate.

To that trio of multiple fatal accidents were added 12 mishaps that took one life each.

With the resort season ended after Labor Day and swimming about finished, especially with advent of cooler weather, there were no drownings over the weekend. But a two-victim plane crash near Shelby, a home fire and a fall out a window ran the total Ohio accidental death toll for the 54-hour period to at least 26.

The fatalities:

Saturday
Elijah Barney, 33, Fremont, when his car overturned on the U.S. 20 bypass just north of Fremont after it left the road and sideswiped a guard rail.

Toy Bartley, 20, Mansfield, when his car failed to halt for a stop sign at a "T" intersection of two Richland County roads and crashed into a tree stump and fence post.

Carole Weiler Returns Home Local Beauty Eyes Rest, School Exam

By ROBERT HARROD
Editor, The Herald

Carole Weiler, Miss Ohio, was to arrive back home in Circleville shortly after noon today after an exhausting week competing in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City.

The title was won by Lynda Lee Mead, a 20-year-old regal beauty from Natchez, Miss. She succeeds Mary Ann Mobley, another Mississippi doll.

Carole, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weiler, 204 N. Pickaway St., won her way into the hearts of all at Atlantic City with her sweet smile, beauty and grace, and especially with her sincerity.

Of the 54 girls who competed for the Miss America crown, none expended more effort, none followed the rules better, none tried harder than our own Miss Ohio.

At 7:30 p. m. Saturday night, just prior to the opening of the final session of the pageant at Atlantic City, the names of the 10 semi-finalists were announced. There was some degree of shock among the 25 persons from Pickaway County who traveled the 500-plus miles to be on hand for the pageant.

Among the 10 semifinalists were girls who had shown no more talent, nor more beauty than Miss Ohio. However, the results of the evening gown and personality competitions are not known.

Each contestant talked with each of the nine judges individually for about 10 minutes. Carole was impressed by Maj. Gen. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Mitch Miller and Cliff Arquette (Charlie Weaver). She said Miller and Arquette kept the girls laughing most of the time with their gay repartee.

How does Carole feel about the final selection?

"It's wonderful!"

Carole became acquainted with Lynda Lee Mead, Miss America for the two lived in the same hotel, Haddon Hall. Friday afternoon Carole met Lynda on the beach in front of the hotel. They discussed the pageant at some length, neither knowing at the time who the eventual winner would be.

Lynda is a gracious, 5-7 beauty with a Grecian profile. She measures 36-24-36, a slim elegant figure. She won none of the preliminary contests, but scored high in all to gain the crown.

Runner-up was Miss Wisconsin, Mary Alice Fox, the "shorty" twin of Carole. Both are 5-3, weigh 110 pounds. Mary Alice's measurements are 35-23-34½, while Carole's are 35-23-35. They were the shortest of the 54 contestants.

Other finalists were Miss Washington, Sharon J. Vaughan, 21, Seattle; Miss California, Susan Bronson, 19, and Miss Arizona, Patricia Allebrandt, 18.

After the finals Saturday night, Carole went to the Coronation Ball. She was escorted by Don Thurman, a first classman at the United States Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs. Don is an Ohio boy. The ball ended at 4 a.m. Sunday.

MISS AMERICA OF 1960 — Lynda Lee Mead of Natchez, crowned Miss America of 1960 without having won a single preliminary event, waves from the balcony of her hotel in Atlantic City. Miss Mead who represented Mississippi in the annual Miss America beauty contest, is a junior at the University of Mississippi. She stayed at Haddon Hall Hotel where Carole Weiler, Circleville, was housed.

New Beauty Queen Seeks Set Example

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The new Miss America says she thinks it is her duty to "educate herself, to make herself as wholesome as possible so as to set an example for the women of America."

So spoke Lynda Lee Mead, 20, of Natchez, Miss., Sunday. She won the title Saturday night, along with a $10,000 scholarship and the possibility of earning about $75,000 from personal appearances.

Newsman gathered around Miss Mead. How does she like to spend leisure time?

"I like to read and listen to music," she said. She added that music did not include rock 'n' roll. "I just haven't been able to catch on to it."

Boy friend? "There is no one terribly serious in my life."

Eventual goal? "Ultimately, marriage and a family but it'll be years from now, I'm sure. I'm not ready for that yet."

Miss Mead is the second girl in a row from Mississippi to win the title. Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., Miss America 1959, also is a University of Mississippi student. This has happened before. Miss Pennsylvania won in 1935 and 1936 and in 1947 and 1948 the Miss Tennessee entrants took the title.

Miss Mead is 5 feet 7, has brown hair and green eyes and measures 36-24-36.

Community Fund Drive Launched

The Pickaway County Community Fund drive opened today with solicitation of industrial gifts.

A goal of $30,000 has been set for this year's campaign. The fund supports, throughout Pickaway County, the activities of the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Youth Canteen.

Without the fund, these vital agencies would have to either stop operations altogether or at least curtail their activities drastically.

Dr. Robert Burton, Knollwood Village, is general chairman of this year's campaign. The captain of the industrial division, which starts operations today is James Carr. He will be assisted by C. K. (Bill) Vaughan.

The formal part of the campaign opens next week with solicitation of business and professional men. The residential and county solicitation begins October 5.

THIS YEAR'S goal is $15,000 more than last year's $28,500. The additional money is needed to allow the agencies to continue to operate at their present level. Last year's campaign was a success.

Volunteer workers all over Pickaway County will make calls on their neighbors during the campaign. The workers will be especially trained during the next two weeks so that they can answer any questions regarding the fund, the goal and the operation of the five agencies.

American scientists congratulated the Soviet Union on her feat and expressed hope information gleaned from the rocket would be shared with the world.

Bullseye Shot At Moon Hailed By Scientists

American Experts Point to Remarkable Space Marksmanship

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev is flying to Washington Tuesday amid worldwide acclaim for the Soviet feat of landing a rocket on the moon.

Congratulations streamed in today from the six continents for this development in the conquest of space.

American scientists were among the first to hail the handling of the 860-pound lunar probe as a remarkable job of scientific reckoning and marksmanship.

The official reaction of the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration was summed up in Washington by its deputy administrator, Dr. Hugh Dryden.

"We have followed with interest the travel of the Soviet lunar probe to its impact with the moon," Dryden said.

"We wish to congratulate our fellow scientists and engineers on their success in this forward step in the exploration of space."

"We hope that the scientific data obtained in this flight will soon be available for study by the scientists of all countries."

The Soviet news agency Tass picked up a British story quoting Heinz Kaminsky, director of the Bochum Observatory in the Ruhr, as saying the feat could be compared to a rifleman hitting the eye of a fly at a distance of six miles.

Radio Budapest said Hungarian scientists spotted a dust cloud raised on the moon when the rocket landed at 12:02 a.m. A black ring was visible for more than an hour after the probe's radio signals stopped on impact, it said, and the scientists expressed belief this outlined a new crater cut into the sand and rock of the moon's surface.

From Britain's major space tracking station, Prof. A. J. Lovell, director of the huge radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, said: "At the moment of impact the telescope was accurately positioned in the direction of the moon and there is no reason to doubt that the Lunik capsule made impact on the lunar surface."

A leading Soviet astronomer said today the next step in the preparation for landing people on the moon is to set up a robot observatory there.

Aleksandr Mikhailov, director of the Pulkovo Astronomical Observatory was heard in London over Moscow radio.

There was no immediate reaction from President Eisenhower. But Saturday, after the Soviets announced the launching of their newest moon rocket, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said: "It has been known for some time that both the Soviets and the United States have had the capability for such shots, and this comes as no surprise."

The Russians were clearly delighted about the success of this effort in the enhancement of Soviet prestige as Khrushchev prepared to start his exchange of visits with President Eisenhower.

The Soviets did not disclose the exact time or site of the rocket launching, but newsmen estimated that it took off sometime early Saturday. They reckoned the capsule soared 236,160 miles to the moon in about 35 hours.

The rocket carried pennants bearing the Soviet hammer-and-sickle emblem and an inscription "Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, September 1959."

The Soviet news agency Tass said special measures had been taken to make sure the pennants bearing the emblem remained intact despite the terrific impact of the moon landing.

The dramatic shot, sure to give Khrushchev's visit a sharp prestige boost, marked the first time man has lobbed a missile through space to hit a celestial target.

American scientists congratulated the Soviet Union on her feat and expressed hope information gleaned from the rocket would be shared with the world.

But Vice President Richard M. Nixon said official proof was still lacking that the Soviets really hit the moon.

26 Persons Killed In Ohio Accidents During Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents in Ohio claimed 22 lives the past weekend, the Associated Press tabulation from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday showed.

Rather a routine amount as a figure compared with other recent weekends — but a terrible toll when the victims are considered as individuals, many in youth or the prime of life, whose lives are cut short needlessly.

Like the four teen-agers who perished in the weekend's most massive mishap — the crash of their car into a stopped freight train in Rossford.

Or the eight-year-old boy who died with his grandfather, 60, in a four-car smashup at Canton. Or killed along with a 50-year-old passenger in a three-car crash near Wadsworth.

To that trio of multiple fatal accidents were added 12 mishaps that took one life each.

With the resort season ended after Labor Day and swimming about finished, especially with advent of cooler weather, there were no drownings over the weekend. But a two-victim plane crash near Shelby, a home fire and a fall out a window ran the total Ohio accidental death toll for the 54-hour period to at least 26.

The fatalities: Saturday
Elijah Barney, 33, Fremont, when his car overturned on the U.S. 20 bypass just north of Fremont after it left the road and sideswiped a guard rail.

Toy Bartley, 20, Mansfield, when his car failed to halt for a stop sign at a "T" intersection of two Richland County roads and crashed into a tree stump and fence post.

Don Ballard, 26, Sego (Perry County), when his car collided with another auto 10 miles south of Zanesville on U.S. 22.

Clarence (Red) McAfee, 40, of near Ironton, when his truck left Ohio 217 near Linnville, east of Ironton, and hit a tree.

Rocco Serena, 60, and his grandson, Ricky Serena, 8, both of Canton, in a four-car collision there.

Frank Smith, 43, Cleveland, hit by a car on a street there.

Joseph Boch, 7, Rt. 1, Lancaster hit by a car as he ran across the road in front of his home mailbox.

Irvin Carter, 52, Rt. 4, Lancaster, when his car went through a road barrier south of Lancaster and upset.

Sunday
Clifford Akins Jr., 19, Sylvania, and Cornelius James Brown, 18, Sam Barner, 14, and Zerlean Greer, 18, all of Rossford, when their car crashed into a stopped freight train in Rossford.

Richard Flemming, 17, and a passenger in his car, Leah Siders, 50, both of Wadsworth, in a three-car collision 1½ miles south of that Medina County town on Ohio 94.

Jethro Herman Bernard, 38, Rt. 1, Chillicothe, when his car collided with another auto on a Ross County road north of Chillicothe.

Gene Enders, 17, Attica, when his car crashed into a freight train at a crossing south of that Seneca County town.

John R. Green, 22, Cleveland, when his car crashed into a service station in suburban Lakewood

Circleville School Levy Gets State Approval on Wording

After two days of consultation with State Department of Education officials, the Circleville Board of Education finally obtained proper wording for its 6 mill renewal and 3.5 mill additional levies for current operating funds.

School Superintendent George A. Hartman said today that a change in the levy law, recently enacted by the 103rd General Assembly, went into effect September 10 and it took an Attorney General's opinion before it could be followed legally.

The difficulty arose since the Circleville Board is asking for a renewal levy to run for 10 years instead of the five years which past levies have run.

The renewal and new levies will appear on the same ballot. The combining of both levies will require but one vote.

THE CURRENT operating levies will be placed before Circleville school system voters on the November 3 off-year general election ballot.

Passage of the levies will provide a total of $273,912.86 for the City school system's treasury with which to operate the schools during 1960.

Additional reappraisal by the Pickaway County Auditor's Department may increase the above amount in the years to come.

The actual increase in school taxes will be $3.50 per $1,000 of taxable real estate valuation over the present tax rate.

The 3.5 mill increase will place $100,915.26 at the school system's disposal for the next 10 years. Total school system real estate valuation, which includes Circleville, Circleville Twp., Wayne Twp. and a portion of Washington Twp., is $28,832,933.

The request for additional current operating funds was made necessary by increased costs and inflation.

THE HEAVY INFUX of new families resulting in more school children for the city's schools; needed additional teachers and classrooms to house increased school population, and need for maintaining present high levels of education, according to George Hartman, city school superintendent.

The resolution passed by the local board of education Friday noon in a special meeting is:

"Section 1. That the amount of revenues that may be raised in the school district by the levy of taxes within the ten mill limitation will be insufficient to provide an adequate amount for the necessary requirements of said school district.

"Section 2. That it is necessary to levy a tax in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the purpose of providing current expenses for the Circleville City School District pursuant to the provisions of section 5705.192.

"Section 3. That pursuant to the provisions of such Revised Code section, it is necessary to levy an increased rate in the amount of nine and five tenths mills; three and six tenths mills of the assessed millage shall be to qualify for the distribution of school funds pursuant to Chapter 3317 of the Revised Code and shall be for an indefinite period of time as herein-after noted;

"FIVE and nine tenths mills of such above total millage which is the excess of that required under said Chapter, shall be in effect for a period of ten years, namely, 1960 through 1969, inclusive, and said additional tax of nine and five tenths mills each year for each one hundred dollars of valuation amounts to ninety-five cents ($.95) each year for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) of valuation for life of said levy on the tax valuation of taxable property within the school district.

"The voted portion of the increased rate, namely the 3.6 mills above noted, shall be in effect until such time as the rate may be decreased by an amount equal to or less than the amount of such voted increase, by a majority vote of the electors of the Circleville City School District approving such decrease pursuant to the provisions of section 5705.261 of the Revised Code, or pursuant to the provision of section 5713.11 of the Revised Code, or pursuant to action by the Board of Education of the Circleville City School District.

"Section 4. The Clerk of the Board of Education be, and he is, hereby directed to certify a copy of this resolution to the Board of Elections, Pickaway County, Ohio, prior to the 15th day of September, 1959, and notify said Board of Elections to cause a notice of election of the question and of the levying of said tax to be given as required by law; said election to be held November 3, 1959."

If passage of the 9.5 mills is successful in November, Circleville schools will be on a par with other Ohio schools with a total of 15.9 total mills for operation of its school system.

There are a total of 3 mills outside the 10-mill levy. An additional 3.4 mills outside the 10-mill levy will expire in two years.

Community Fund Drive Launched

The Pickaway County Community Fund drive opened today with solicitation of industrial gifts.

A goal of $30,000 has been set for this year's campaign. The fund supports, throughout Pickaway County, the activities of the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Youth Canteen.

Without the fund, these vital agencies would have to either stop operations altogether or at least curtail their activities drastically.

Dr. Robert Burton, Knollwood Village, is general chairman of this year's campaign. The captain of the industrial division, which starts operations today is James Carr. He will be assisted by C. K. (Bill) Vaughan.

"The formal part of the campaign opens next week with solicitation of business and professional men. The residential and county solicitation begins October 5.

THIS YEAR'S goal is $15,000 more than last year's $28,500. The additional money is needed to allow the agencies to continue to operate at their present level. Last year's campaign was a success. The goal was reached.

Volunteer workers all over Pickaway County will make calls on their neighbors during the campaign. The workers will be especially trained during the next two weeks so that they can answer any questions regarding the fund, the goal and the operation of the five agencies.

Chimney Swift Has Adjusted To Civilization

Actually Relative Of Hummingbird Says Bird Watcher

Editor's Note:—Mrs. J. O. Eagleson, N. Circleville St., has long been interested in birds. A veteran at bird watching, she can tell the amateur interesting habits that her bird friends have. Take the chimney swift, which follows and you will see how this "nuisance" will turn into a creature of fascinating habit when Mrs. Eagleson writes about him.

By MRS. J. O. EAGLESON

The place in which they live accounts for the names of some birds. Such is the case of the chimney swift which is found in the eastern United States, where it is a common summer bird. The term "Swift" is derived from their catapulting flight.

It formerly nested in hollow trees but now, as the name suggests, lives in chimneys since the passing of so many of our forests. It also uses the inside walls of silos, barns, and old log cabins.

The nest is built of dead twigs that the swift, pausing momentarily in flight, snaps off with its feet. The twigs are joined to each other and attached to the supporting surface by the glue-like saliva. In common with all other swifts, it lays white eggs.

The young call for food noisily; when half grown they leave the scanty little nest platform and cling to the wall. Their tail feathers end in spiny tips, which enable them to cling to perpendicular surfaces.

AN UNUSUAL trait among these birds is that one or two unmated swifts often become affiliated with a nesting pair and spend the entire season cooperating more or less closely in the nesting activities. Such "assistants" may acquire mates the following year or they may again fill a secondary role as helpers at the nest.

For many years the winter home of these birds remained a mystery. In an effort to solve this, thousands were captured by placing nets over the opening of chimneys during the migratory flocking season and were banded.

In time a few of these bands were brought to a local official by Peruvian Indians who had done some trapping of their own and thus discovered the winter home of the species.

Contrary to popular belief, the chimney swift is a near relative of the hummingbird, not of swallows.

Holland To Host World Horticultural Exhibition

Holland, the world's leading exporter of horticultural products will be host at a world's fair of gardening in which more than a dozen countries are to display their skills and accomplishments in the field of horticulture.

The year 1960 is a fitting one for Holland to stage the Floriade (a word that is a combination of Flora and Olympiade, signifying an Olympics of horticulture). This is the year that the Dutch celebrate the 400th anniversary of the arrival of the tulip in Holland, and the 100th anniversary of the Royal General Dutch Bulb-Growers Society.

The Floriade will occupy more than 125 acres in the center of Rotterdam. In addition to setting aside the park area, the City of Rotterdam has contributed more than $2 million to the development of the Floriade.

More than 5 million visitors are expected during the spring and summer of next year. The event will run for six months, from the end of March through the end of September, 1960.

THE SUBJECT of the Floriade is horticulture in its broadest sense: everything from the newest roses, to the latest methods of freezing vegetables for shipment and storage. The theme of this international horticultural exhibition is "from seed to force."

There will be specifically national displays, in an area to be known as the Gardens of the Nations. Here, individual nations will stage displays of indigenous plant materials, landscape design practices, or emphasize special or unique interests and activities.

Countries expected to participate in the Floriade are the United Kingdom, Ireland, the United States, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, France, Switzerland, Italy, Hungary, Spain and Israel.

A 350-foot tower named the Euromast, has been built on the exhibit grounds. Symbol of the Floriade, its circular "crow's nest" terrace, high in the air, commands a view of half of Holland. A restaurant is located at the top for the convenience of Floriade visitors.

Unlike other world's fairs characterized by exhibits only on a nation-by-nation basis, the Floriade will, in addition to the national exhibits, be organized into sections devoted to different phases of horticulture. For example, roses from each country will be grouped in the Rosarium, where visitors will view a garden of all roses of the world.

Also in outdoor exhibits, life-size market gardens and florists' greenhouses will show the techniques used by professional growers in raising fruits and vegetables, as well as flowers and plants for commercial markets.

Training Still Factor in Spelling

You have to get up pretty early in the morning to keep up with the latest theories on why some people cannot spell. Today's blueplate special comes from the psychology department at Princeton and should have a fine future because it will help a lot of people in the education business beat the rap for the current crop of illiterates.

This theory is that the ability or lack of ability to spell is built into people right at the factory. They found this out by studying identical twins, who come from the same egg, and fraternal twins, who don't. Working on from accumulated research which has pretty well established that identical twins share the same hereditary traits, the Princeton psychometrist found that if one identical twin could spell, so could the other. But this was not so of the fraternal twins, who had inherited different genes.

Before the younger generation starts upbraiding the older generation for passing on this inability to spell, it should be mentioned that the Princeton psychometrist doesn't blame it all on the parents. He says heredity cannot be responsible for the total power to spell: training is still the biggest factor.

You might have known there would be a catch in it some place.

Economic Structure Needs Study

By George Sokolsky

It is not often that an industrial company uses its advertising space to sell not its product but its thinking. Every American producer is being forced to consider the danger of foreign competition in the American market. The automobile industry never favored a high tariff for automobiles because it did not need protection. There was no foreign competition in the American automobile market, but that is not true today.

The Union Oil Company of California has been using its advertising space to discuss its economic thinking. The product take care of itself if the country's economic thinking is right. The advertisement that attracted my attention is entitled "Charlie Perkins"—How Wage Hikes and taxes threaten your job. Charlie Perkins is apparently a real person.

This is the body of the advertisement and whoever wrote it knows his economics:

"Walk into nearly any store today with the idea of buying something.

"You'll see products from abroad right alongside our American-made ones. Nails, woolen and cotton fabrics, dinnerware, sewing machines, cameras, cars, bicycles and watches are some of them. And practically in every case, the imports cost less.

"Foreign manufacturers now compete sharply with our own industries. And they do so without two handicaps every American business faces today.

"One: Wage hikes not based on increased productivity. These result in continually rising prices for U. S. consumers and ever-mounting production costs for our manufacturers.

"Two: Growing taxes. Each year taxes take more of industry's dollars. This, too, is reflected in higher prices to the consumer.

"It makes you wonder. If we price ourselves out of world markets, what's next? If we don't stay competitive, isn't that the same as pricing you and me and all of us right out of our jobs?"

The issue herewith presented is correct. The contrary argument is: Many manufacturers are mighty eager to sell some of their output in other countries. Are not American-made sewing machines, typewriters, and farm machinery sold abroad?

Both arguments have some merit. However, we face a very frigid fact, namely, that if low-waged, low-taxed, low-priced, subsidized goods come into the United States to compete with high-waged, highly taxed, high-priced goods made with less efficiency than is possible because of labor union rules, we face the danger of a kind of competition which can throw 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 Americans out of work. That raises very serious social problems.

It used to be sound economics to say that if an American-made product could not compete with a similar product made elsewhere, it was the fault of the American manufacturer. He lacked efficiency. He lacked sound financial principles.

However, that is not true today. The United States, by a generosity unknown in the history of man, has rebuilt and rehabilitated industries throughout the world and created new ones with the result that American industry, which pays high taxes to aid its competitors, finds the subsidized competition tough going.

Secondly, American labor unions, fighting automation, have instituted various feather-bedding arrangements to slow up production. These arrangements increase inefficiencies, raise the cost of production of American goods.

I recently watched an advertisement for electrical equipment used in connection with a television show. We tried quickly to figure what the cost would be if we purchased every household device in that commercial. Our guess ran to about $50,000 which, of course, is not necessary because nobody requires all the devices.

The dilemma that the United States faces is this: In order to maintain our standard of life which is based on the social assumption that this nation will not have a proletariat, we must have full employment at good wages. The other side of the dilemma is that we cannot compete even in our own market with goods identically made by machinery tended by laborers who receive less pay, work longer hours and use fewer feather-bedding devices.

This problem will not be solved by demagogic speeches in or out of Congress. It requires profound study of the entire economic structure of this country. The proof of the peril is that the old free-trade unions in the textile and garment industries have suddenly become conscious of the danger to their industries by the flood of as good but cheaper goods from Europe and Asia.

Is Dieting Worth Effort?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Is dieting really worth the effort? You bet it is!

It's tough to remain on a diet. I'll concede that. In fact, up to 80 per cent of those who embark upon diet programs don't follow them through. Persons with emotional problems are much more likely to quit than are reasonably stable individuals.

The success of your own weight reduction program depends upon whether you have set a realistic goal for yourself and upon the importance you attach to food and eating.

In case you may be wavering in your determination to continue with a diet, let's, as the politicians say, look at the record.

The medical publication, "Patterns of Disease," reports that among persons between the ages of 45 and 50 as few as 10 pounds increase the chance of death by 8 per cent above the normal.

Thirty extra pounds mean a 28 per cent increase in chance of death. And you more than double your chances of dying (a 56 per cent jump) if you are carrying around 50 excess pounds.

The greater the amount of overweight, the higher the mortality rate. It's that simple.

Let's look at individual diseases. The death rate from heart disease for obese men between 25 and 74 is 42 per cent above normal. The women fare even worse. For obese females in this same age bracket, the heart disease death rate is 75 per cent above normal.

Advance atherosclerosis is three times more prevalent in obese persons than in those who are underweight. And sustained hypertension is twice as frequent among the obese as among those of normal weight.

Diabetes is another example. The death rate from this disease among obese men and women is nearly four times as high as for those of normal, or average weight.

You are more likely to get varicose veins and to suffer from gallbladder and gallstone trouble if you are fat.

It will be more difficult for you to recover from acute infections such as pneumonia if you are overweight.

I could go on and on, but I think you get the point.

Does it pay to diet off those extra pounds? It sure does. It pays off in the best way possible—a longer, healthier life.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—No matter how you feel about Nikita Khrushchev — good or bad — here are some points to keep in mind as he bounces around the country.

Don't take his visit so seriously as to be disappointed if nothing comes of it. To Khrushchev this may be just a prestige and feeling-out expedition, with a free trip and look around on a Soviet expense account.

It is also possible he really wants to lessen tensions. He could, if he wished, lower the world's temperature by making concessions. If he did, he'd want some in return.

Why should he budge an inch? It's easy to think of a number of reasons which tie in together and from his viewpoint make good sense.

He's 65. He wants to see the Soviet Union surpass this country economically. He has said it will. Because years are short, it probably won't happen in his lifetime.

Right now the U.S.S.R. is throwing 40 per cent of its resources into military development. His dream of Soviet economic supremacy would come a lot closer to fulfillment if a bigger share of these resources went into home use.

Since Communists are convinced their system will own the earth eventually, they don't have to keep pushing so hard. They can wait. Khrushchev has implied as much.

With the world divided into two armed camps, capable of a war which no one could win, this is a good time to take out insurance against catastrophe by trying to make war less likely.

War could destroy everything for the Soviets while the U.S.S.R. and communism don't have to depend on war alone in trying to take over the world. There are other means: economic penetration, pressure here and there, and breaking up enemy alliances.

For example: there seems no obvious reason why the Soviet Union should try to capture the West when there are softer touches nearby in the backward countries. The Soviet Union can work on them with aid, propaganda, and internal subversion.

But so long as the U.S.S.R. is surrounded by American bases, as it is now, Soviet ability to maneuver and pressure its neighbors is hampered since an overstep anywhere could result in war.

These bases would be less of a menace and might eventually have to be withdrawn if the Soviet Union could weaken the Western alliance through maneuvering or concessions, starting now in his talks with President Eisenhower.

The suspicion of the U.S.S.R. is too deep in the West for any change in armaments or bases right away. But after all, Khrushchev's trip here may be only the first in a series of moves he has in mind.

For example Eisenhower has pledged he will make no agreements with Khrushchev which affect our allies. Good enough. Khrushchev could make agreements affecting this country alone. Later—through visits with the heads of the allied governments—he could make agreements which pleased and affected them, even though they affected their alliance.

This isn't said cynically but realistically. The alliance isn't as solid as Western propagandists make it appear. Witness the suspicions and misgivings in Western capitals over the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

A Soviet might well ask: what kind of alliance is this that forces Eisenhower to fly the Atlantic just to reassure his friends he won't do any double-dealing with Khrushchev?

If the alliance shows cracks under the pressure of Khrushchev's salesmanship, the military threat to the Soviet Union from the West decreases. He hasn't been able to do much with threats so far. There's no reason for not trying a softer technique. His visit is a softer technique.

When all this is said, the big unanswered question remains: just what does Khrushchev have in mind in coming here? He may be truly anxious to get a breathing spell for the U.S.S.R. to show he could develop it beyond Stalin's wildest dream.

Communism can, as mentioned before, take its time without ever losing sight of its main goal.

Training Still Factor in Spelling

You have to get up pretty early in the morning to keep up with the latest theories on why some people cannot spell. Today's blueplate special comes from the psychology department at Princeton and should have a fine future because it will help a lot of people in the education business beat the rap for the current crop of illiterates.

This theory is that the ability or lack of ability to spell is built into people right at the factory. They found this out by studying identical twins, who come from the same egg, and fraternal twins, who don't.

Working on from accumulated research which has pretty well established that identical twins share the same hereditary traits, the Princeton psychometrist found that if one identical twin could spell, so could the other. But this was not so of the fraternal twins, who had inherited different genes.

Before the younger generation starts upbraiding the older generation for passing on this inability to spell, it should be mentioned that the Princeton psychometrist doesn't blame it all on the parents. He says heredity cannot be responsible for the total power to spell: training is still the biggest factor.

You might have known there would be a catch in it some place.

Economic Structure Needs Study

By George Sokolsky

It is not often that an industrial company uses its advertising space to sell not its product but its thinking. Every American producer is being forced to consider the danger of foreign competition in the American market. The automobile industry never favored a high tariff for automobiles because it did not need protection. There was no foreign competition in the American automobile market, but that is not true today.

The Union Oil Company of California has been using its advertising space to discuss its economic thinking. The product take care of itself if the country's economic thinking is right. The advertisement that attracted my attention is entitled "Charlie Perkins"—How Wage Hikes and Taxes Threaten your Job. Charlie Perkins is apparently a real person.

This is the body of the advertisement and whoever wrote it knows his economics:

"Walk into nearly any store today with the idea of buying something.

"You'll see products from abroad right alongside our American-made ones. Nails, woolen and cotton fabrics, dinnerware, sewing machines, cameras, cars, bicycles and watches are some of them. And practically in every case, the imports cost less.

"Foreign manufacturers now compete sharply with our own industries. And they do so without two handicaps every American business faces today.

"One: Wage hikes not based on increased productivity. These result in continually rising prices for U. S. consumers and ever-mounting production costs for our manufacturers.

"Two: Growing taxes. Each year taxes take more of industry's dollars. This, too, is reflected in higher prices to the consumer.

"It makes you wonder. If we price ourselves out of world markets, what's next? If we don't stay competitive, isn't that the same as pricing you and me and all of us right out of our jobs?"

The issue herewith presented is correct. The contrary argument is: Many manufacturers are mighty eager to sell some of their output in other countries. Are not American-made sewing machines, typewriters, and farm machinery sold abroad?

Both arguments have some merit. However, we face a very frigid fact, namely, that if low-waged, low-taxed, low-priced, subsidized goods come into the United States to compete with high-waged, highly taxed, high-priced goods made with less efficiency than is possible because of labor union rules, we face the danger of a kind of competition which can throw 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 Americans out of work. That raises very serious social problems.

It used to be sound economics to say that if an American-made product could not compete with a similar product made elsewhere, it was the fault of the American manufacturer. He lacked efficiency. He lacked sound financial principles.

However, that is not true today. The United States, by a generosity unknown in the history of man, has rebuilt and rehabilitated industries throughout the world and created new ones with the result that American industry, which pays high taxes to aid its competitors, finds the subsidized competition tough going.

Secondly, American labor unions, fighting automation, have instituted various feather-bedding arrangements to slow up production. These arrangements increase inefficiencies, raise the cost of production of American goods.

I recently watched an advertisement for electrical equipment used in connection with a television show. We tried quickly to figure what the cost would be if we purchased every household device in that commercial. Our guess ran to about $50,000 which, of course, is not necessary because nobody requires all the devices.

The dilemma that the United States faces is this: In order to maintain our standard of life which is based on the social assumption that this nation will not have a proletariat, we must have full employment at good wages. The other side of the dilemma is that we cannot compete even in our own market with goods identically made by machinery tended by laborers who receive less pay, work longer hours and use fewer feather-bedding devices.

This problem will not be solved by demagogic speeches in or out of Congress. It requires profound study of the entire economic structure of this country. The proof of the peril is that the old free-trade unions in the textile and garment industries have suddenly become conscious of the danger to their industries by the flood of as good but cheaper goods from Europe and Asia.

LAFF-A-DAY

Is Dieting Worth Effort?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Is dieting really worth the effort? You bet it is!

It's tough to remain on a diet. I'll concede that. In fact, up to 80 per cent of those who embark upon diet programs don't follow them through. Persons with emotional problems are much more likely to quit than are reasonably stable individuals.

The success of your own weight reduction program depends upon whether you have set a realistic goal for yourself and upon the importance you attach to food and eating.

In case you may be wavering in your determination to continue with a diet, let's, as the politicians say, look at the record.

The medical publication, "Patterns of Disease," reports that among persons between the ages of 45 and 50 as few as 10 pounds increases the chance of death by 8 per cent above the normal.

Thirty extra pounds mean a 28 per cent increase in chance of death. And you more than double your chances of dying (a 56 per cent jump) if you are carting around 50 excess pounds.

The greater the amount of overweight, the higher the mortality rate. It's that simple.

Let's look at individual diseases. The death rate from heart disease for obese men between 25 and 74 is 42 per cent above normal. The women fare even worse. For obese females in this same age bracket, the heart disease death rate is 75 per cent above normal.

Advance atherosclerosis is three times more prevalent in obese persons than in those who are underweight. And sustained hypertension is twice as frequent among the obese as among those of normal weight.

Diabetes is another example. The death rate from this disease among obese men and women is nearly four times as high as for those of normal, or average weight.

You are more likely to get varicose veins and to suffer from gallbladder and gallstone trouble if you are fat.

It will be more difficult for you to recover from acute infections such as pneumonia if you are overweight.

I could go on and on, but I think you get the point.

Does it pay to diet off those extra pounds? It sure does. It pays off in the best way possible—a longer, healthier life.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—No matter how you feel about Nikita Khrushchev — good or bad — here are some points to keep in mind as he bounces around the country.

Don't take his visit so seriously as to be disappointed if nothing comes of it. To Khrushchev this may be just a prestige and feeling-out expedition, with a free trip and look around on a Soviet expense account.

It is also possible he really wants to lessen tensions. He could, if he wished, lower the world's temperature by making concessions. If he did, he'd want some in return.

Why should he budge an inch? It's easy to think of a number of reasons which tie in together and from his viewpoint make good sense.

He's 65. He wants to see the Soviet Union surpass this country economically. He has said it will. Because years are short, it probably won't happen in his lifetime.

Right now the U.S.S.R. is throwing 40 per cent of its resources into military development. His dream of Soviet economic supremacy would come a lot closer to fulfillment if a bigger share of these resources went into home use.

Since Communists are convinced their system will own the earth eventually, they don't have to keep pushing so hard. They can wait. Khrushchev has implied as much.

With the world divided into two armed camps, capable of a war which no one could win, this is a good time to take out insurance against catastrophe by trying to make war less likely.

War could destroy everything for the Soviets while the U.S.S.R. and communism don't have to depend on war alone in trying to take over the world. There are other means: economic penetration, pressure here and there, and breaking up enemy alliances.

Soviet Picks Poor Date for Big Shot

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union apparently took a calculated risk in firing a moon shot at a time that will provide the most propaganda value for Premier Nikita Khrushchev's U. S. visit.

Some scientists here said that the Soviet space experts picked the least favorable time—from a strictly technical viewpoint—for hurling the rocket into space today.

This seemed to indicate that considerable weight was given to propaganda purposes with Khrushchev scheduled to arrive in Washington next Tuesday. Some diplomatic sources speculated that Khrushchev himself might have ordered the timing.

Scientists pointed out that in each month there are 14 days when the moon is in a good target position for a shot from earth.

In that period there are about four or five days that are especially favorable. On those days the moon and earth are only about 220,000 miles apart.

The next period considered most favorable with the moon and earth nosing close together covers the three days beginning Oct. 2.

On the other hand, scientists here say, the present period, 18 days away from the especially good days, has to be labeled as "least favorable."

There have been reports that the United States might fire another space probe vehicle toward the area of the moon during the next favorable period.

Last March, an Army Juno launched a 13.4 pound package past the region of the moon and into orbit around the sun.

This followed Russia's Mecha sun-orbiting rocket which was launched Jan. 2.

Presumably Khrushchev would like to persuade American leaders that his country has made such strides in space exploration and is catching up so rapidly in the Twentieth Century industrial production race that the Western system of trade controls against the Communist block no longer makes sense. He would like to break down the economic barriers to speed Soviet industrial expansion.

In London, Dr. D. C. Martin, assistant secretary for the Royal Society for the Advancement of Science, acclaimed the Soviet launching as a great achievement.

"Russia's cosmic rocket should produce a great deal of information about the properties of space and the approaches to the moon," said.

"This rocket will not come back to earth," said Prof. H. S. W. Massey, chairman of the British National Committee for Space Research. "The speed it attained was certainly cosmic."

County Sales Taxes Decline

Sales tax collections continue to surpass last year's totals, Treasurer of State Joseph T. Ferguson reported today.

The total for the current fiscal year, which began last July 1, reached $39,511,723 through August 29. This cumulative total is $5,553,574, or 16.4 per cent, greater than the $33,958,149 registered during the same period of 1958.

Revenues from the sale of prepaid tax receipts again were down from last year, stated Treasurer Ferguson. Sales for the week ending August 29 amounted to $3,127,941.

This total is $886,115, or 22.1 per cent, short of the $4,014,056 collected during the corresponding week of last year.

FERGUSON announced that Ohio's highway use tax collections reached $4,094,001 since the fiscal year began. This figure represents an increase of $1,071,044 over collections of $3,022,957 for the same period of 1958.

Pickaway County reported a sale of prepaid taxes totaling $5,807.37 for the week ending August 30.

Prepaid taxes from July 1 to August 30 totaled $38,132.89. This is compared with last year's total from July 1 through August 30 of $52,182.92.

Prepaid taxes for the week ending Aug. 30, 1958 were $6,572.25. Motor vehicle sales taxes paid for the week ending August 30 amounted to $2,961.72.

Motor vehicle sales taxes paid from July 1 to August 30 totaled $25,275.85. The state total was $8,529,859.93.

Presumably Khrushchev would like to persuade American leaders that his country has made such strides in space exploration and is catching up so rapidly in the Twentieth Century industrial production race that the Western system of trade controls against the Communist block no longer makes sense. He would like to break down the economic barriers to speed Soviet industrial expansion.

In London, Dr. D. C. Martin, assistant secretary for the Royal Society for the Advancement of Science, acclaimed the Soviet launching as a great achievement. "Russia's cosmic rocket should produce a great deal of information about the properties of space and the approaches to the moon," said.

"This rocket will not come back to earth," said Prof. H. S. W. Massey, chairman of the British National Committee for Space Research. "The speed it attained was certainly cosmic."

County Sales Taxes Decline

Sales tax collections continue to surpass last year's totals, Treasurer of State Joseph T. Ferguson reported today.

The total for the current fiscal year, which began last July 1, reached $39,511,723 through August 29. This cumulative total is $5,553,574, or 16.4 per cent, greater than the $33,958,149 registered during the same period of 1958. Revenues from the sale of pre-paid tax receipts again were down from last year, stated Treasurer Ferguson. Sales for the week ending August 29 amounted to $3,127,941.

This total is $886,115, or 22.1 per cent, short of the $4,014,056 collected during the corresponding week of last year.

FERGUSON announced that Ohio's highway use tax collections reached $4,094,061 since the fiscal year began. This figure represents an increase of $1,071,044 over collections of $3,022,957 for the same period of 1958.

Pickaway County reported a sale of prepaid taxes totaling $5,580,737 for the week ending August 30.

Prepaid taxes from July 1 to August 30 totaled $38,132.89. This is compared with last year's total from July 1 through August 30 of $52,182.92.

Prepaid taxes for the week ending Aug. 30, 1958 were $6,572.35. Motor vehicle sales taxes paid for the week ending August 30 amounted to $2,961.72.

Motor vehicle sales taxes paid from July 1 to August 30 totaled $25,275.85. The state total was $8,529,859.93.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Voices of Experience Heard

DEAR ABBY: You asked women to write in and tell from their own experiences if a wife could ever make a go of her marriage after her husband hit her. The first year of my marriage, my husband used to beat me up so bad I was ashamed to be seen in public. I would have left him but I was pregnant. We have been married nine years and he still beats me up. We have five children now. I can tell you this much: It would have been a lot easier to run with one than five.

LEARNED TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: Can a woman stay happily married to a man who has hit her? I say yes! Like all married couples, my husband and I have had our battles. Sometimes he loses his temper and socks me. But he has never hit me in the face or any place where the bruises will show. Also he has never hit me in front of the kids. I think this is very nice of him. I really can't complain because I know when he takes a poke at me, I usually have it coming.

STILL MARRIED

DEAR ABBY: I got the surprise of my life when my husband ended an argument by slapping my face. I picked up the first thing I could find, which happened to be a milk bottle. I hit him over the head with it. Then I drove him to the emergency hospital so the doc could put twelve stitches in his head. That was 28 years ago and he has never raised a hand to me since.

LILY

DEAR ABBY: The first time my husband struck me, I left him. He crawled back to me on his hands and knees, begging for just one more chance. I gave him that chance. He behaved himself for a few months, but his promise didn't mean anything because he hit me again. He came back. His mother begged me. His sisters begged me. I gave him another chance for another promise. In the past 22 years he has had more chances and I have had more promises than I can count. Put me down for saying that a man who would hit his wife once would hit her again. They never change.

"STUPID"

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to a loveable hot headed Irishman for 16 years. He's slapped me around some, but he has his good points. Why should a wife throw out a perfectly good husband just because he belts her a few times? I wouldn't trade my guy for one of those sweet-talking chiselers who kills you with kisses and then chases around behind your back. Sure, I've had my lip sewed up and my nose broke more than once, but true love never runs smooth.

GERTIE

DEAR ABBY: Why should a wife stand there like an idiot and let a big bully of a husband hit her? I am 5 ft. tall, weigh 100 pounds and my husband is six feet two and weighs over 200. My husband hit me once, and I taught him a lesson. I knocked the wind out of him with my left and finished him off with a quick up-percut to the jaw. The bigger they are the harder they fall.

"TIGER"

DEAR ABBY: I don't approve physical violence. But I would one hundred times more have preferred physical punishment to the mental beatings I've taken over the years. "Covering up" for his frequent absences from home so the children wouldn't know what was going on; pretending not to know of his affairs in order to keep my family together.

A husband who breaks his wife's bones can be punished by law. But for breaking her heart—he goes unpunished. Because that break doesn't show.

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR ABBY: Once, just once, my husband threatened to hit me. I said "Go ahead—hit me!" He didn't do it because I picked up a frying pan and showed him I could take care of myself. I know this is not very lady-like, but a man who would hit a woman is no gentleman.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Voices of Experience Heard

DEAR ABBY: You asked women to write in and tell their own experiences if a wife could ever make a go of her marriage after her husband hit her. The first year of my marriage, my husband used to beat me up so bad I was ashamed to be seen in public. I would have left him but I was pregnant. We have been married nine years and he still beats me up. We have five children now. I can tell you this much: It would have been a lot easier to run with one than five.

LEARNED TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: Can a woman stay happily married to a man who has hit her? I say yes! Like all married couples, my husband and I have had our battles. Sometimes he loses his temper and socks me. But he has never hit me in the face or any place where the bruises will show. Also he has never hit me in front of the kids. I think this is very nice of him. I really can't complain because I know when he takes a poke at me, I usually have it coming.

STILL MARRIED

DEAR ABBY: I got the surprise of my life when my husband ended an argument by slapping my face. I picked up the first thing I could find, which happened to be a milk bottle. I hit him over the head with it. Then I drove him to the emergency hospital so the doc could put twelve stitches in his head. That was 28 years ago and he has never raised a hand to me since.

LILY

DEAR ABBY: The first time my husband struck me, I left him. He crawled back to me on his hands and knees, begging for just one more chance. I gave him that chance. He behaved himself for a few months, but his promise didn't mean anything because he hit me again. He came back. His mother begged me. His sisters begged me. I gave him another chance for another promise. In the past 22 years he has had more chances and I have had more promises than I can count. Put me down for saying that a man who would hit his wife once would hit her again. They never change.

"STUPID"

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to a loveable hot headed Irishman for 16 years. He's slapped me around some, but he has his good points. Why should a wife throw out a perfectly good husband just because he belts her a few times? I wouldn't trade my guy for one of those sweet-talking chisellers who kills you with kisses and then chases you around behind your back. Sure, I've had my lip sewed up and my nose broke more than once, but true love never runs smooth.

GERTIE

DEAR ABBY: Why should a wife stand there like an idiot and let a big bully of a husband hit her? I am 5 ft. tall, weigh 100 pounds and my husband is six feet two and weighs over 200. My husband hit me once, and I taught him a lesson. I knocked the wind out of him with my left and finished him off with a quick up-percut to the jaw. The bigger they are the harder they fall.

"TIGER"

DEAR ABBY: I don't approve physical violence. But I would one hundred times more have preferred physical punishment to mental beatings I've taken over the years. "Covering up" for his frequent absences from home so the children wouldn't know what was going on; pretending not to know of his affairs in order to keep my family together.

A husband who breaks his wife's bones can be punished by law. But for breaking her heart—he goes unpunished. Because that break doesn't show.

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR ABBY: Once, just once, my husband threatened to hit me. I said "Go ahead—hit me!" He didn't do it because I picked up a frying pan and showed him I could take care of myself. I know this is not very lady-like, but a man who would hit a woman is no gentleman.

U.S.-Russian Trade Affected By Diplomacy

Both Governments Control Any Deals Between Yank, Ivan

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Americans could ship thousands of items to the Soviet Union and have little trouble finding hordes of customers who would like to have them. Moscow has the gold to pay for them.

U.S. purchasing agents could buy a number of commodities and raw materials from the Soviet Union and often at cut rate prices with little relation to the cost of production.

So why is the trade between the United States and the Soviet Union such a trivial stream and such a fluctuating one?

Because in this case the words free trade are just empty jargon. It's government controlled—more or less on both sides.

The goods we could sell Ivan—consumer items—the Kremlin won't let him buy. The goods Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wants from us—machinery that could be used to make armaments or for economic warfare—we won't let Americans sell him.

Khrushchev arrives Tuesday, and he's made it plain he wants to get more from us—on credit, if possible—and sell us more—for cash or barter, doubtless.

And many of the commodities and raw materials he will be trying to peddle while he's here we don't want Americans to buy because they're already getting them from our friends—to the general good of the Western alliance—and also because when we did get them from the Soviet Union they were subject to sudden embargo as political policies dictated.

Here is how our trade with the Soviet Union in recent years has gone up and down with political tempers, and the things we've sold and bought.

In the first five months of this year our Soviet imports came to 12 million dollars and our exports to 3 million dollars. In 1958 we bought 17½ million dollars worth and sold 3½ million.

The biggest items we bought were benzene, scientific instruments, wood pulp and furs. Mostly they bought equipment for plastic pipe, synthetic fiber, and milk-product processing plants, and crop seeds, tallow, butyl alcohol, stereophonic, radio, TV and hearing aid equipment.

Americans have tried to sell more to the Communist bloc than this. They have applied this year for licenses to sell some 40 million dollars worth of goods, and REPRIMANDED — These two high service officers are nursing Treasury department reprimands over permitting civilians to travel on military flights. Rear Adm. James A. Hirschfeld (upper), assistant commandant of the U. S. Coast Guard, was rebuked for taking six relatives on a flying inspection trip to Europe. Vice Adm. Alfred C. Richmond (lower) was rebuked for approving the presence of nine civilians on the trip. The Treasury controls the Coast Guard in peacetime.

Washington has rejected most of this as strategic, or potentially strategic, materials. Example: steel pipelines.

In this decade the best export year was 1956 with almost 4 million dollars worth of goods going to the Soviet Union, and the lowest volume was $19,000 in 1953. At best our trade with the Russians is only a tenth of one per cent of our total foreign trade.

The urge for more trade with the Communist bloc gets keener as you go west from Moscow and east from Washington. The satellites to the east of the Iron Curtain are traditional traders with our West European allies. Both the satellites and the West European countries have grown industrially in the last five years.

Many of the goods we still ban as strategic our European allies now will sell to the nearby Communists. And officials have been going back and forth to see how trade can be stepped up.

But even if Khrushchev doesn't get all the trade concessions he hopes from his visit here, he has a consolation. So many American tourists have gone to the Soviet Union this year that it is estimated they have left five million dollars behind for the Kremlin to garner and spend on whatever goods it will consent to buy and we will consent to sell.

What Is Soviet Yardstick Khrush To Use on U.S.?

Editor's Note — Nikita Khrushchev arrives Tuesday to take a look at the bounding U.S. economy. What will be his yardstick? How will he measure U.S. life against the background of his Russian upbringing? Here is an appraisal of the system Khrushchev leaves behind when he flies to Washington.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
Starting Tuesday Nikita Khrushchev will get a first hand idea of what he must do if he is to delive on those promises he has made to the people of the Soviet Union—to match and overtake the living standards of the United States.

The Communist boss likely will see America through the eyes of one whose life has been ruled by inflexible Marxist-Leninist theories. Probably he will remain convinced the U.S. system inevitably must collapse and that thus the superiority of the American way must be regarded as temporary.

The U.S.S.R. has come a long way, even in the five or so years of the Khrushchev era. Under any system, mighty development would have been certain in these modern times for so naturally rich a land. Its strides in science, technology and military might are well known. But it lags badly behind Western Europe, far behind the United States, in terms of people's material well-being.

A Communist party of 8 million rules the nation's other 200 million, more than half of them Great Russians dominating numerous other races speaking scores of different languages. Khrushchev says this is the world's most democratic system because the party represents all the people and there is no need to choose between leaders. In the West, he adds, workers can choose only between parties intent upon exploiting them.

The system, however, has produced a privileged class. It's extremely difficult to become a Communist in the U.S.S.R. Membership is open only to those the party calls the "politically mature." Party members often have the best jobs, make the most money. A ranking Communist can have a private town apartment, a country dacha or bungalow, an automobile assigned for official or personal use. He often has a chauffeur and other servants. His wife may scorn Moscow dressmakers and have her clothes made in Riga—or even, if she's ultrafashionable, imported from Paris.

Many outside the party have good incomes, too. The class extends to professional people, scientists, writers, industrialists and others.

But about 60 per cent of the labor force—perhaps 55 million—are those the party calls "workers and employees," wholly dependent upon wages and salaries. Of these, eight million were in an extremely low bracket in September, 1957, when a decree fixed the minimum wage of 270 to 250 rubles monthly equal in terms of purchasing power to perhaps $27 to $35.

The average worker now probably earns 800 to 900 rubles monthly, on $80 to $90 in terms of purchasing power. Of this, about 70 per cent goes for food, 17 per cent for clothing and necessities, 9 per cent for rent and utilities, the rest for squandering or saving. The citizen is urged to deposit his surplus, if any, in savings banks.

Apart from rents, living costs are high. Families get by because usually each has two or

Brodie Twin Taken Out Of School

FERRIS, Ill. (AP) — Rodney Dee Brodie, who will be 8 years old Wednesday, is going back home for his first grade school lessons.

Rodney, who was born a head-joined twin, has been withdrawn from public school after a brief trial of classroom life, his mother disclosed Friday.

Rodney survived a surgical operation shortly after birth. His brother, Roger Lee, died a month after the operation.

Mrs. Royt Brodie requested that Hancock County School Dist. No. 80 assign a tutor to give the boy lessons at home.

The difficulty has been the boy's inability to avoid prattling and disturbing classroom decorum.

He started first grade a year ago, attending classes after regular school hours. His progress was satisfactory until he fell in the family bathroom in January and fractured a leg. He was withdrawn from school at that time.

This spring, he fell from a chair, fracturing the other leg, and has been free of casts only the last month.

The youngster, troubled by lack of balance, an apparent result of the operation, weighs only 48 pounds.

Body of Marietta Man Recovered from River

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — The body of Sam Collett, 88, an apparent drowning victim, was found in the Muskingum River Sunday. He had been missing since last Monday when he and other residents of the Washington County Home visited the county fair here. The river borders the fairgrounds.

Only 812 Swiss Idle

BERN (AP)—Switzerland registered only 812 unemployed in a total labor force of about 1,800,000 and 5,761 jobs open Aug. 31.

more working members. Some improve their situations by having their own vegetable gardens, even cows and chickens, though this now is being discouraged officially in urban areas.

The average man works about three hours to earn enough for 50 grams—little more than a pound—of butter or bacon. The average American earns that in less than a half hour. A cheap suit costs more than a month's pay; a 15-inch television up to five months pay. The smallest automobile would cost the average worker more than 16 months pay, a university professor about six months pay, and a cabinet minister about two months salary.

One of the biggest consumer economy problems is a severe housing shortage. It is common for a Russian family of four or more to be crowded into a single room. Many families must share kitchen and other facilities. To appreciate what this means an American might imagine 20 persons crowded into the average-size American home. Khrushchev says a building program will cure this within 12 years, but that's optimistic.

Another sore spot is a severe manpower shortage. This requires use of women for heavy labor. Almost half the labor-employ force is made up of women. Freeing them from it would cut the force in half, have a telling effect on the economy, and weaken the military.

Body of Marietta Man Recovered from River

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — The body of Sam Collett, 88, an apparent drowning victim, was found in the Muskingum River Sunday. He had been missing since last Monday when he and other residents of the Washington County Home visited the county fair here. The river borders the fairgrounds.

Only 812 Swiss Idle

BERN (AP)—Switzerland registered only 812 unemployed in a total labor force of about 1,800,000 and 5,761 jobs open Aug. 31.

party calls the "politically mature." Party members often have the best jobs, make the most money. A ranking Communist can have a private town apartment, a country dacha or bungalow, an automobile assigned for official or personal use. He often has a chauffeur and other servants. His wife may scorn Moscow dress-makers and have her clothes made in Riga—or even, if she's ultrafashionable, imported from Paris.

Many outside the party have good incomes, too. The class extends to professional people, scientists, writers, industrialists and others.

But about 60 per cent of the labor force—perhaps 55 million—are those the party calls "workers and employees," wholly dependent upon wages and salaries. Of these, eight million were in an extremely low bracket in September, 1957, when a decree fixed the minimum wage of 270 to 250 rubles monthly equal in terms of purchasing power to perhaps $27 to $35.

The average worker now probably earns 800 to 900 rubles monthly, on $80 to $90 in terms of purchasing power. Of this, about 70 per cent goes for food, 17 per cent for clothing and necessities, 9 per cent for rent and utilities, the rest for squandering or saving. The citizen is urged to deposit his surplus, if any, in savings banks.

Apart from rents, living costs are high. Families get by because usually each has two or more working members. Some improve their situations by having their own vegetable gardens, even cows and chickens, though this now is being discouraged officially in urban areas.

The average man works about three hours to earn enough for 50 grams—little more than a pound—of butter or bacon. The average American earns that in less than a half hour. A cheap suit costs more than a month's pay; a 15-inch television up to five months pay. The smallest automobile would cost the average worker more than 16 months pay, a university professor about six months pay, and a cabinet minister about two months salary.

One of the biggest consumer economy problems is a severe housing shortage. It is common for a Russian family of four or more to be crowded into a single room. Many families must share kitchen and other facilities. To appreciate what this means an American might imagine 20 persons crowded into the average-size American home. Khrushchev says a building program will cure this within 12 years, but that's optimistic.

Another sore spot is a severe manpower shortage. This requires use of women for heavy labor. Almost half the labor-employed force is made up of women. Freeing them from it would cut the force in half, have a telling effect on the economy, and weaken the military.

Higher Tax Bill And Better Pay Face Americans

NEW YORK (AP) — Higher taxes and interest rates coupled with the prospect of more and better paying jobs loom for many Americans.

The promise of bigger opportunities and fatter paychecks came from two sources: the almost sure-fire certainty of a upturn in industrial production after settlement of the long steel strike, and the ambitious expansion plans of many blue chip business firms.

Business spending on new plant and equipment this year is expected to total over 33 1/2 billion dollars. That's how government economists see the picture now. The figure is 700 million dollars more than they estimated three months ago. If the steel strike is settled soon the total should go even higher.

Capital expenditures in recession 1958 dipped to 30 1/2 billion dollars.

A good chunk of this year's business spending will go into laboratories and testing plants where new processes and new products will be developed. Six hundred big companies polled by the American Management Assn. plan to boost their 1959 outlays for research and development by an average of 12 per cent over 1958.

Stock sales for the latest week totaled 11,138,315 shares compared with 11,576,180 shares in the week before and 15,730,680 in the same 1958 week. Bond sales in the latest week had a par value of $27,286,500 against $26,998,000 in the previous week and $24,749,000 in the same week last year.

Looking into 1960 and beyond, the Aluminum Co. of America announced plans for a multi-million-dollar research and development center to be built on a sprawling 2,400-acre tract near Pittsburgh.

General Dynamics Corp. — builder of jet bombers and atomic powered submarines — arranged for a 20-year, 5 1/4 per cent loan of 20 million dollars. Frank Pace Jr., chairman, said the extra cash will put the company in better shape to grasp "new opportunities for business indicated by scientific research."

Other favorable economic signposts:

Despite the steel strike, employment totaled 67,241,000 last month — highest for any August on record. Unemployment, the estimated number of Americans out of a job and looking for work, declined 318,000 to 3,426,000.

Department store sales in the week ended Sept. 5 showed a 20 per cent gain over last year. Retailers had the benefit of an extra shopping day in 1958 Labor Day fell on Sept. 1 vs. Sept. 7 this year). Back-to-school buying—off to a late but vigorous start—also contributed to the upturn.

Merchants say the high school crowd is more clothes-conscious this year—"sloppy Joe" attire is going out. What's more, the teenagers have lots of cash and the like to spend it.

You'll spend more for a gallon of gasoline in the months ahead. Starting Oct. 1, the federal tax on gasoline goes up to four cents a gallon from the three cents you're paying now. In most states this will boost the combined federal and state tax to at least 10 cents a gallon, or about one-third the total price.

Economy in gasoline consumption was the keynote this week as the auto industry unveiled two more of its lightweight, compact models. General Motors' Chevrolet division gave newsmen a peek at its Corvair whose rear-mounted engine will squeeze 25 to 30 miles out of a gallon of gas. The lowest-priced Corvair lists at $1,810 plus taxes and dealer handling charges.

Studebaker-Packard lifted the curtain on its 1960 Lark, first of the new U.S.-built economy cars to include a cloth top convertible model.

Will Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell eat his hat?

Last spring, Mitchell made a bet that the month of October would find unemployment down below three million. Otherwise, he said, he'd eat his hat on the steps of the Labor Department Building.

This week the labor secretary's hat-munching seemed to hinge on an early and successful end of steel strike negotiations which have been getting nowhere fast.

Unemployment totals do not include the 500,000 striking steel workers but they do include 145,000 in other industries made idle by the shutdown. If the strike lasts through Oct. 15 the number could swell to 200,000.

Briefly over the business scene: The upward trend in interest rates was confirmed this week when most of the nation's federal reserve banks raised their discount rate to 4 per cent, highest in 29 years. This is the interest paid by commercial banks on the funds they borrow from the central banking system. . . . The steel strike held freight car loadings in the week ended Sept. 5 down to 544,089 cars—about 165,000 below normal. . . . A drought which has dried up the clear, cold streams of Scotland is drying up supplies of Scotch whisky. Distillers use the brook water for their product.

Ex-American Eyes Status In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Nicholas Petrulli, a man without a country, said today he is willing to take whatever comes along.

Petrulli, 38, of Valley Stream, N.Y., came here as a tourist, but handed his passport over to the U.S. Embassy with a signed statement renouncing his American citizenship. He asked the Soviet parliament for Soviet citizenship. Later he filed to withdraw his renunciation.

Petrulli said the U.S. Embassy has not told him if withdrawal of his renunciation has been approved, and the Russians have not told him anything about his nearly month-old application.

Consequently, "I would stay here" if the Soviet government granted him citizenship, he told a reporter.

Petrulli also said he has heard nothing from his brothers in the Valley Stream area, nor has he received a reply to his request for $300.

He has return plane tickets to the United States but needs money to settle his bills in the luxury Hotel Ukraina where he has been living off the cuff for two weeks.

Petrulli came here Aug. 11 on a regular tourist visit for which he paid $965.

After arriving, he said he had decided that in the Soviet Union "people are not hurrying around getting nervous, and square pegs are put in square holes by a planned economy."

He carries pictures of his divorced wife and 4-year-old daughter living in California but complains the pictures "are not very good."

His former wife, who operates a candy store in Los Angeles, has indicated a willingness to take him back.

J., because they couldn't pay their rent, Mrs. Harold St. John (rear) and 10 of her 11 children sit in the shade in the "front yard" of their new home—the store-front clubhouse of the Skyway Riders Motorcycle club. Mrs. St. John's rent reportedly had been raised from $45 a month to $100.

2 Railroaders Burned By Diesel Explosion

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP) — An explosion of leaking oil in the cab of a diesel locomotive Sunday resulted in serious burns to two New York Central System employees. Paul H. Eichmire, 64, the engineer, and Thurman M. Jenkins, 46, a brakeman, both of Bellefontaine, were brought to Fostoria City Hospital with burns on the face, chest and arms. The blast occurred as the 73-car freight train passed through Wayne, 10 miles north of here.

Billy Goodman's Rare Home Run Is Big Help to Sox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

On July 16, 1957, Billy Goodman hit a home run. Two years and nearly two months—exactly 254 games—went by before he hit another.

The homer Goodman hit two years ago came with a man on base and enabled Baltimore to beat Chicago. The score was 3-1. The homer Goodman hit Sunday also came with a man on base. This one enabled the White Sox to beat Boston. The score? 3-1.

Billy's surprise blow, only his 18th in 12 big league seasons, probably was the most important hit he ever made. It enabled the White Sox to widen their first place lead to 5½ games over Cleveland and all but mathematically eliminate the Indians from pennant contention.

The Indians lost a game and a half to the White Sox as they dropped both ends of a doubleheader to the New York Yankees 2-1 in 11 innings and 1-0. Chicago's magic number now is six. Washington whipped Detroit 5-1 and Kansas City swept a doubleheader from Baltimore 9-3 and 4-1.

Buck Shaw posted his 16th triumph although it took the combined relieving of Billy Pierce and Turk Lown to nail down the White Sox' 89th victory. Goodman's homer was a 400-foot drive into the right field bullpen off Frank Sullivan in the fourth inning. It followed a walk to Jim Landis.

Well pitched games by Cleveland lefty Jack Harshman and right-hander Jim Perry went for naught. Harshman, who had won four straight since his purchase from Boston two months ago, dueled through 10 scoreless innings with Bob Turley of New York. After Turley had left for a pinch hitter, the Indians appeared to have picked up the winning run in the top of the 11th.

Tito Francona literally knocked Ryne Duren out of the box with a line single off the relief pitcher's ankle. Duren had to be carried off the field. Gary Blaylock took over and gave up singles to Rocky Colavito, Russ Nixon and Woodie Held. Francona scored on Held's hit but Colavito was

Purkey Finds Range Again, Trips Braves

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — You can't blame the Cincinnati Reds' Bob Purkey for being jubilant after defeating Milwaukee's Braves Sunday.

After losing five of his last six decisions, the righthander who was the kingpin of Redleg pitching in 1956 showed he still could frustrate the defending National League champs.

The Reds' 3-2 victory was one of comparatively few over the years for Cincinnati over Warren Spahn, ageless Brave lefthander. Purkey has always attributed a heap of his success to luck but he also figures pitchers have to make some of their fortune.

"A pitcher has to know a thing or two today in order to survive," he said. "The pitcher's principal aim today is to keep runners off the bases so when some Joe Blow comes to the plate and hits the ball out of the ball park, it costs only one run."

"You're just saying that because it's so," said team mate Jerry Lynch.

It was true Sunday. The Braves tagged Purkey for nine hits. But he scattered them so successfully that when a home run did come—by Eddie Mathews in the fourth inning—it only brought the Braves even with the Reds, 1-1.

The Braves took the lead briefly in the fifth when Felix Mantilla beat out a bunt and Billy Bruton doubled him in.

But Cincinnati tied it again, 2-2, two innings later. Eddie Kasko led off with a single—third of his four hits Sunday—and after Johnny Temple reached first on an error, Vada Pinson singled in the run.

The deciding marker, in the eighth inning, began with a lead-off single by Frank Robinson. After Frank Thomas and Willie Jones hit into easy outs, Ed Bailey rammed a single to center and Kasko drilled in the deciding run.

Lopez Bares Plan If Chisox Win

BOSTON (AP) — Cautious Al Lopez, as close-mouthed as ever about winning the American League pennant, at least conceded he's making plans about what he's going to do if his White Sox take it.

"Rest," the White Sox manager said Sunday. "That's what I'm going to do. Just rest."

"Now don't go saying I said we've got it won. Not at all. That's just what I'm going to do if we win it in time to do any good before the series."

The White Sox hustled out to a 5½ game lead over staggering Cleveland Sunday, and reduced the magic number to 6. That is, any combination of Chicago victories and Cleveland losses totaling 6 will secure the White Sox their first flag in 40 years. Chicago has 10 games remaining and Cleveland has 11.

Lions Again Pin Defeat On Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown doesn't believe in jinxes—although he must find it hard to argue with a record of never a Cleveland Browns' victory in 10 football games at Detroit.

The Lions beat the Browns again Sunday, 31-28, in a preseason contest, pulling out the triumph by scoring twice with slightly more than a minute and a half left in the game.

A crowd of 33,345 turned out in Briggs Stadium and was treated to a high-powered offensive display. Bobby Mitchell scored twice for Cleveland, on a 59-yard dash and a 3-yard run, while fullback Jimmy Brown rambled 42 yards for another touchdown.

Detroit's fullback, John Henry Johnson, snagged two touchdowns passes from quarterback Tobin Rote with the clock running its final course. The actual margin of difference was a 30-yard field goal by Jim Martin in the second period.

The Browns have beaten only Los Angeles in five preseason games and play the Chicago Bears next Saturday in Cleveland. It was the second loss to the Lions, who topped the Browns 9-3 in Akron's Rubber Bowl earlier.

A fumble by Leroy Bolden was a key factor in Cleveland's loss. The little Michigan State speedster, fighting again for a job on the team, cost the Browns a touchdown with a fumble on the one-yard line in the first half.

After the Lions scored with 1:33 left to cut Cleveland's lead to 28-24, Martin boomed the kickoff to the goal line where it was grabbed by Bolden.

Surely, Cleveland would be able to "kill the clock." But as Bolden smacked into a wave of Lions, the ball squirted out of his arms again and Detroit's Dave Whitsett recovered on the Cleveland 28.

Rote hit Johnson over the middle for a 28-yard payoff and the Lions had done it again.

Tigers Eye Athens Tilt

Hannahs Sidelined With Bad Ankle

Circleville High School's football Tigers will point this week for the season opener at Athens on Friday.

Last year the Tigers trimmed the Bulldogs 18-14 in a contest played here. According to reports from Athens, the Bulldogs are loaded with returning lettermen and the two teams probably will be about evenly matched in weight.

Duties of CHS Fullback Larry Hannahs still are a question mark. The veteran back has been sidelined the last few days with a sprained ankle and his role will remain doubtful.

The only injury in Friday's preview at Lancaster was a banged up leg suffered by Center Pat Rooney. The hardworking ball snapper is expected to whip back into shape this week.

SEEING heavy varsity duty at Lancaster were Jake Bailey, Rich Warner and Leo Moats at ends, Dave Huffer, Hoot Gibson and Dan Leonhardt at tackles, Dave Hicks, Harold Arledge and Irving Ellis at guards, Rooney and Steve Helwagen at center, Dave Smith and Gary Agin at quarterback, Arch Ward and Gary Vandemark at halfbacks and Alex Cook at Fullback.

The Tigers open home play September 25 when Columbus Rosary comes here. The Columbus outfit posted a 6-0 decision over the locals last year to set the stage for an undefeated, untied and unscored upon season.

Memorize This Gin Ad and Recite It at Parties

Up until the time of which we speak, gin has been forced to flee the still with plenty of rough spots in it. Embarrassed and chagrined, distillers hide these defects with various perfumes and other aromatics.

Gustin, Boros Tie For Lead in Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Jon Gustin, scenting a big pay day at last along the weary golf tour, and plodding Julius Boros, were tied for the lead today as the $25,000 Dallas Open entered its final round.

Gustin, 27-year-old Birmingham native playing out of Gladwyne, Pa., shot his third sub-par round Sunday—a 3-under 67—to tie the faltering Boros, the veteran from Mid Pines, N.C., at 54 holes with 204.

Boros, who started the third round Sunday leading the field by two strokes with 134 for 36 holes, sailed through the front nine in 3-under-par 32. But his putting went sour on the first four holes of the second nine and he had trouble finishing with a par 70.

A fumble by Leroy Bolden was a key factor in Cleveland's loss. The little Michigan State speedster, fighting again for a job on the team, cost the Browns a touchdown with a fumble on the one-yard line in the first half.

After the Lions scored with 1:33 left to cut Cleveland's lead to 28-24, Martin boomed the kickoff to the goal line where it was grabbed by Bolden.

Surely, Cleveland would be able to "kill the clock." But as Bolden smacked into a wave of Lions, the ball squirted out of his arms again and Detroit's Dave Whitsett recovered on the Cleveland 28.

Rote hit Johnson over the middle for a 28-yard payoff and the Lions had done it again.

Yearling Trotter Gets Name: Sulky Sillivan

HAMBURG, N.Y. (AP)—It was bound to happen some day. Dr. George W. Holton, Canandaigua, N.Y., trotting horse owner, named one of his yearlings Sulky Sillivan. Sulky, not Silky, will start next year as a 2-year-old at Buffalo Raceway.

Tigers Eye Athens Tilt

Hannahs Sidelined With Bad Ankle

Circleville High School's football Tigers will point this week for the season opener at Athens on Friday.

Last year the Tigers trimmed the Bulldogs 18-14 in a contest played here. According to reports from Athens, the Bulldogs are loaded with returning lettermen and the two teams probably will be about evenly matched in weight.

Duties of CHS Fullback Larry Hannahs still are a question mark. The veteran back has been sidelined the last few days with a sprained ankle and his role will remain doubtful.

The only injury in Friday's preview at Lancaster was a banged up leg suffered by Center Pat Rooney. The hardworking ball snapper is expected to whip back into shape this week.

ASHVILLE BACKFIELD — Seen above are five lads making a determined bid for starting assignments in the Ashville High School football backfield. Four of these youths will know tonight whether they were successful as the Broncos take on Amanda at 8:45 at Frankfort in its annual pre-season Football Preview. Centering the ball is second string center, Joe Snowden. Receiving the ball is quarterback, Bill Cromley. The four halfbacks from left to right are Larry Hix, Bob Kuhlwein, Dan Hollenback and Jim McNeal. (Staff Photo)

Gustin, Boros Tie For Lead in Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Jon Gustin, scenting a big pay day at last along the weary golf tour, and plodding Julius Boros, the veteran for the lead today as the $25,000 Dallas Open entered its final round.

Gustin, 27-year-old Birmingham native playing out of Gladwyne, Pa., shot his third sub-par round Sunday—a 3-under 67—to tie the faltering Boros, the veteran from Mid Pines, N.C., at 54 holes with 204.

Boros, who started the third round Sunday leading the field by two strokes with 134 for 36 holes, sailed through the front nine in 3-under-par 32. But his putting went sour on the first four holes of the second nine and he had trouble finishing with a par 70.

Willie Shoemaker led Round Table to victory in the 1957 United Nations Handicap at Atlantic City and in 1958 he piloted Clem to victory in the same stake against Round Table who finished second.

Memorize This Gin Ad and Recite It at Parties

Up until the time of which we speak, gin has been forced to flee the still with plenty of rough spots in it. Embarrassed and chagrined, distillers hide these defects with various perfumes and other aromatics.

But now the jigger is up! There's a new gin (ours, silly!) as smooth and dry as the Sphinx's tongue. You can make a Martini with just the gin and ice—ending the vermouth argument once and for all. Or you can sip it straight with a little smile on your face.

We call it Smooth American Gin—by Schenley. When we don't feel up to that, we just say "S.A." It's the finest gin you've ever tasted. And it's ours, all ours! Make it yours. Today! Smooth American Gin by Schenley!

By the way, the code number is 334B, the price is only $3.61 a fifth. Distilled from 100% Grain Neutral Spirits, eighty proof. Schenley Distillers Company, New York City.

Buck Shaw's Eagles Shine In Pro Grid Win over Colts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wily Buck Shaw, the silver-haired coaching craftsman entrusted with the task of rebuilding the Philadelphia Eagles, apparently has his reconstruction program running ahead of schedule.

Hired two seasons ago after 24 years service as head coach in college and pro ranks, the 60-year-old taskmaster warned his players when he took over: "We'll keep one team coming, one going and one playing if necessary" to make the Eagles a threat in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

Shaw has traded numerous players and shifted others, cajoled some and threatened a few—and the Eagles finally are on the rebound after a dismal 1958 season in which they tied for last with a 2-9-1 record.

Most responsible for Philadelphia's resurgence has been veteran quarterback Norm Van Brocklin—whom Shaw acquired from Los Angeles—and shift Tommy McDonald, now in his third year as a pro after winning All-America honors at Oklahoma.

The Eagles' latest conquest came Sunday as Van Brocklin threw three touchdown passes to halfback McDonald in a 35-13 exhibition triumph over the previously undefeated NFL champion Baltimore Colts. The Eagles, now 2-3, are tied for second place in the Eastern warm-up standings.

In other weekend games, Los Angeles showed a powerful attack in walloping San Francisco 48-14; Detroit defeated Cleveland 31-28, and Green Bay knocked off Washington 20-13.

The Colt offense missed regular quarterback Johnny Unitas, who sat on the sidelines as Coach Weeb Ewbank went with Ray Brown in an attempt to develop suitable relief for his all-pro signal-caller. Brown completed 16 of 33 passes for 195 yards.

Jon Arnett, who scored twice, raced 81 yards and Joe Marconi 67 for touchdowns in the first five minutes as the Rams (2-2-1) established themselves as a definite threat in the West to the Colts and Chicago's Bears (5-0).

Tobin Rote hit John Henry Johnson with a pair of TD tosses for 28 and 23 yards in the last two minutes of play as the Lions came from behind to beat the Browns.

Paul Hornung accounted for all the Packer (3-2) points with two short TD runs, two field goals and a pair of conversions.

Poor Indian Tribe Appears To Be Dying

NEW YORK (AP)—Lo, the poor Indians. Trailing Chicago by 5½ games with only 11 to play, the Cleveland Tribe is dying fast.

In fact, you have to hold a mirror real close to catch a faint breath of life.

"Come on in and join the wake," said Manager Joe Gordon Sunday night in the clubhouse after Cleveland dropped a doubleheader to the New York Yankees, 2-1 in 11 innings and 1-0.

Gordon wasn't ready to give up. Not quite.

"I'll concede when we run out of numbers," he said with a sad smile. "How many have we got left—eleven? There have been 11-game winning streaks before." But there was no conviction in his voice. It had been a long tough Sunday for the Indians.

"We still have a faint shot," he said. "Faint, but still a shot. If we could get the kind of pitching we got today, somebody would have to hit."

Gordon shook his head wearily. "What a shame to waste that kind of pitching (complete games by Jack Harshman and Jim Perry who allowed the Yanks a total of only three runs). But we couldn't hit. We didn't even get the pleasure of clinching second place."

Asked to pinpoint the spot where the race swung definitely in favor of Chicago, Gordon had a quick answer. "That weekend in Cleveland (Aug. 28-29-30) when they beat us four straight."

"The big factor was our bad play against the White Sox, the mechanical errors we made. They cost us four or five games to Chicago."

Richmond, Havana Vie in IL Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Deron Johnson, Richmond's one-man gang in the International League playoffs, leads the Vees into Havana Tuesday night for the beginning of the loops best-of-7 final playoff series.

The Yankee farmhand finished his wrecking job on pennant-winner Buffalo Sunday, leading Richmond to a 5-4 victory that eliminated the Bisons 4-1, in the best-of-7 semifinal competition. Havana finished a 4-0 lacing of Columbus Saturday night with a 6-0 victory.

The series, to decide the IL representative against the American Assn. winner in the Little World Series, will have the first two games in Havana, the next three in Richmond, and the remaining two, if necessary, back in the Cuban capital.

Xavier Opens Grid Season With Victory

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ed Doherty, new football coach at Xavier University first met his squad two weeks ago.

He had 12 days to drill the team into shape. He had a new and strange offense to teach. . . His squad was green and young. . . But the Musketeers passed their first test with flying colors Sunday night, whipping St. Ambrose of Iowa, 27-7.

The Bees held Xavier to a 7-7 halftime tie. But the Musketeers got going in the third quarter to pull away.

Part of Xavier's success came from Doherty's confidence in Irv Etlar, chunky sophomore quarterback from Elsmere, Ky. Etlar passed for the first two "X" touchdowns and engineered most of the team's big gains—259 yards rushing and 221 passing.

Reserve quarterback Ron Costello also threw a touchdown pass and halfback Larry Cox scored on a 38-yard run.

The game capped 1959's first weekend of college football in Ohio. Saturday night, Bluffton whipped Taylor of Indiana 27-14 and Youngstown eked out a 6-0 victory over Gustavus Adolphus. Most Ohio colleges start their seasons next weekend.

Two of the nation's top jockeys come from Pennsylvania. They are Bill Hartack, born in Colver, Pa., and Bill Harnatz of Wilkes-Barre KILLED BABY WHO WOULDN'T EAT—Mrs. Elvira Ellis, 20, mother of four children and expecting her fifth, is consoled by her husband Terry, 24, at East Los Angeles sheriff's station, after telling her deputies she killed her 3-year-old daughter, Gloria, because she wouldn't eat. On probation for beating the child, Mrs. Ellis carried the body, covered with bruises, into the station. Afraid at first to go to the police, Ellis and his wife spent a night at home with the body. "We didn't sleep so good," Ellis said.

Stiff Penalty Is Given to Young Felon

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy who admitted a long string of crimes was sentenced Friday to 45 days of solitary confinement on a bread and water diet.

He also was placed on five years probation by a judge who is the father of nine children and who warned the youth he faces 15 years imprisonment if he breaks probation.

Circuit Judge Alfonso A. Magnotta who declared "it is high time we attempt to institute new ideas in punishment," meted out the unusual penalty to Richard Lee Babie.

The boy was convicted of breaking and entering at night. He admitted at least five other break-ins, three auto thefts, three larcenies from cars and an attempted break-in.

The tall, thin youth will serve his 45 days in the Calhoun County jail. Judge Magnotta ordered that he be allowed no visitors, except a clergyman, an attorney or a physician, and be allowed no reading material except religious literature and the Bible.

ROBBERY UNDERWAY — These photos from films in Mosler Photoguard cameras show an actual bank robbery taking place in New York. The robber handed the teller a note demanding money and threatening her with a can of lye solution. She tripped the cameras. In top photo the robber (arrow) reaches for the money and (middle) starts his flight, racing (lower) out into the crowded street. But he dropped half the $1,000 teller Margaret Ann Kilkenny, 19, handed over.

The Pilgrims sailed from Plymouth, England, on Sept. 16, 1620. Thus the name for Plymouth Rock where they landed.
